News Notes

The annual Commencement of the College was held from June 6 to June 12. The successful contestants for the Ballard Oratorical contest held June 9, 8:15 P. M., were: First prize, Sara Miller; second prize, Mary Ransburg; third prize, tied by Lawrence Mitchell and Melvin Gilmore.

The Adams-Tattersall recital at 8:15 P. M., June 10, was a recital of unusual brilliancy. A former resident of the state of Iowa said to the President at the close of the program, "I doubt if this program could be duplicated in any of our church colleges in Iowa."

The inauguration program on Wednesday, June 11, was carried out as per program except that Superintendent Preston was detained from being present on account of the death of her aunt. The first deputy, Mr. Neely, a ruling Elder in the Presbyterian church, made an excellent response in the absence of the superintendent.

FINANCE

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees, Dr. Frank S. McKean, newly installed pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Spokane, was elected to a place on the Board and has accepted the same. On Wednesday evening Trustee J. P. Graves made the statement that the College had paid off in the past year practically one-third of the indebtedness which had been accruing for a period of 12 years and all the current expense bills were paid up to date.

Chairman W. L. McEachran and the President, while at General Assembly, secured from the Board of Education an additional grant of $3,000 for 1923-24, with the understanding that the churches of the Synod match this amount. All moneys designated for this debt-raising contest will be used to meet the Board's challenge.

PURELY PERSONAL

The friends and admirers of Dr. O. H. Carmichael will be pleased to note that upon his return to a former pastorate in Lebanon, Indiana, June 23, that the Doctor was given such an ovation on Sunday that he and his address on that occasion were given front-page preference the following Monday morning.

Carroll Pederson who has been attending Occidental College, is to re-enter the 1925 class. There will be at least three other recruits to the class which will number ten at least for 1925. Two others are in the offing and may or may not be with us the opening day, September 16, at 9 A. M.

Honorable E. T. Mathes, Ph. D., of Bellingham, Trustee of the College, in connection with his visit on Commencement week and the delivery of a thoughtful and scholarly Commencement address, spoke at Cashmere, Wenatchee, Waterville, Davenport, Moscow and Clarkston in the interests of Christian education and Whitworth College. Dr. Mathes has been very useful to the College in the short period of his incumbency as a Trustee.

Mrs. Marjorie Weaver, Dean of Women, is an A. B. graduate of Whitworth in the class of 1922. She has recently taken the degree of M. A. at the Washington State College.

Miss Dorothy Farr, teacher of voice at Whitworth this year, took her A. B. from Whitworth in June, 1923.

Miss Ardis M. Fox, teacher of Domestic Economy and Commercial branches, in addition to her regular college training, culminating in the degree of B. S., is also a graduate of a Woman's College in Denver where she specialized in voice. She is a member of Rev. A. B. Van Zante's church, the Westminster Presbyterian church, Tacoma. Her sister and mother will, in all probability, accompany her to the College this fall.

The administration expects that there will be representatives from each of the nine home Presbyteries in attendance this fall. Professor Buxton, Dean J. G. Patrick and Coach J. P. Laird are each of them spending available time in the field this summer, representing the College.

CONFERENCES

The Young Peoples Missionary Conference of the Presbyterian church, U. S. is being held at the College, July 1-4. The United Presbyterian Church will have its conference at Whitworth, July 2-4.
